

I am pleased as punch that Sinclair has decided to air this piece. After all, they have as much right under the 1st Amendment to report the news as do CNN, NBC, ABC, CBS, et al.

I view any attempt to censure or block the broadcast of this piece by the FCC as a hypocritical outrage. The FCC is not a political content censor, nor should it be allowed to penalize free speech on the public airwaves so long as that speech is not deemed indecent by community standard.

I firmly support Sinclair and encourage them to stand strong. I likewise encourage the FCC commissioners to do their job, which is to regulate and administrate the lawful use of the public airwaves, and not to involve themselves in inappropriate partisan censorship battles.
